National Service Idea Gets Cool Reception

M'NUTT'S BID AS DIRECTOR OF LAW CRITICISED

Opposition Hinges On Need Of Vesting Sweeping Powers In Washington

FATE UP TO CONGRESS

Control Over Jobs Of All Workers Advocated By Manpower Chief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—The proposal of Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower commission, that the government be given power to control the jobs of every person in the nation, met a cool reception today in Congress which would have to vote such authority before it could be exercised.

McNutt's statement that enactment of a "national service" law is "inevitable" and his bid to direct the far-reaching program, appeared to disturb most members of Congress and drew criticism from not a few. Bulk of the opposition seemed to hinge on the need for vesting such sweeping power in Washington, even in time of war.

Proposal "Premature" Chairman Mary T. Norton (D), N. J., of the House labor committee, expressed belief that McNutt's proposal was "decidedly premature."

"I don't think we have reached that stage yet and I would have to know a lot more about it than I do now to favor a program of that nature," Mrs. Norton asserted.

Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the labor committee, declared that he was opposed to placing "that much power in anyone."

"If it becomes necessary to take a step like that, then I favor going back to the American Legion's old 'universal service' act whereby everybody would automatically be drafted by the Army and Navy, assigned to their jobs and be paid alike and treated alike," Ramspeck said.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 17 — "Make high grades in your studies or get into the army!"

This was the virtual ultimatum that went out today to students in Canada's universities. Dominion authorities said students would be exempted from conscription only if they study hard and get good marks.

The new rule naturally will not apply to co-eds.

Senators Eye Deadline; Seek To Speed Drastic Anti-Inflation Bill

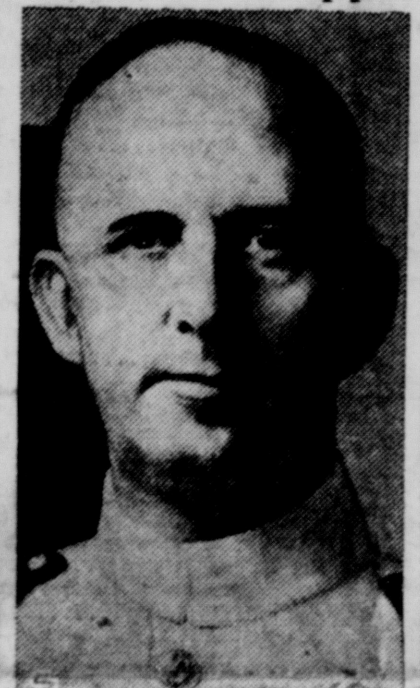

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — Senate Republicans were expected to declare their support for drastic anti-inflation legislation today, as the Senate Banking Committee was called into secret session to report a bill to meet President Roosevelt's demand for action.

The House Banking Committee, seeking to avoid open hearings, planned to go into secret conference again with the possibility that it, too, may approve a measure stabilizing wages and farm prices within the next 24 hours.

With their eyes on the October 1 deadline set by Mr. Roosevelt, Democratic leaders in both branches sought to step up the tempo of the legislative machinery.

Republican Senate Leader McNary, who favors control for both agricultural prices and wages, called Senate Republicans into a special conference.

Yorktown's Skipper

THE Navy department has cited Captain Elliot Buckmaster (above), skipper of the ill-fated U. S. S. Yorktown, for his brilliant handling of the carrier prior to its being fatally damaged by Japanese torpedo hits during the battle of Midway. Captain Buckmaster is a resident of Columbus, O.

"OLD MAN" WINS FULL PRAISE OF YORKTOWN CREW

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17 — America's sorrow at the loss of the carrier Yorktown turned today to pride in the courage of her crew as survivors told of the vessel's sinking June 7 and the calm heroism of the men who made her one of the greatest fighting ships in history.

Surviving crewmen, since transferred to new battle stations, were all alive with praise for "the old man," Captain Elliot Buckmaster, the Yorktown's commanding officer. They told how he risked his life to swim from a crowded whaleboat, towing a colored mess attendant who was terrified by the water.

Captain Buckmaster, 53-year-old native of New York, put the colored lad in the only available space in the whaleboat and directed the coxswain to make for the nearest destroyer. Then he swam back to the raft and stayed until the boat returned.

GERMAN CRITIC NOW CLAIMS HE LOVES AMERICA

CHICAGO, Sept. 17—From all the evidence at hand today, Albert W. Krause, 46, formerly a laboratory technician at Northwestern university, is a completely changed man.

The government is seeking to revoke the American citizenship of the German-born Krause on a charge of disloyalty. Witnesses before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan testified Krause had called the American people "stupid" and had expressed the opinion that "the German people should and will rule the world." But Krause, testifying in his own behalf, said: "I love this country dearly and I think Germany should be defeated. I owe everything I am and have to America."

He admitted, however, he talked a "little too freely" before December 7. He was to continue on the stand today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — Latest reports received by the State Department concerning interned American nationals in Manila today indicated that the health of the internees is fair and their morale excellent.

Approximately 3,500 American nationals are now held by the Japanese in Manila. Negotiations are underway between the United States and Japan through the intermediary good offices of the Swiss government for the repatriation of all these Americans, and it is hoped that several hundred of them will start for home next month.

About 2,500 of the Americans are held in the Santo Tomas internment camp in Manila, along with approximately 1,000 other Western nationals, most of whom are British and Dutch.

TRUCK CRASHES WHEN DRIVER DODGES AUTO

Collision between a heavy truck-trailer outfit and a passenger car carrying five persons was narrowly avoided at midnight Wednesday when Roy Oldfield, 19-year-old Canal Winchester driver, drove his GMC truck onto the sidewalk in front of Forest cemetery to evade a crash.

Oldfield was driving south on Court street behind the passenger car driven by Major J. S. Denholm, 34, of Fort Bragg, N. C. in the car were the major, his wife and three children. The Army man told Patrolman Elmer Merriman that he saw a tourist home on the east side of the street and decided to stop. He slowed his car to make a turn into Seyfert avenue, not knowing that Oldfield's big trailer outfit was immediately behind his car.

The Canal Winchester driver applied his brakes, the big GMC truck going over the curbing and onto the sidewalk. The vehicle broke off a fire hydrant and a utility pole and was stopped between the fence and two big trees which line the curbing.

Police were amazed at the manner in which Oldfield guided his truck between the iron fence surrounding the cemetery and the trees. Only minor damage was done to the fence, while two trees were barked.

Damage to the truck consisted of a shattered left front fender and broken front bumper. Neither of the truck's big tires was damaged and neither was the frame of the big vehicle damaged.

LONDON EDITORS SOUND PRAISE OF U. S. AIRMEN

LONDON, Sept. 17 — London newspapers today paid high tribute to members of the famous American Eagle Squadrons of the RAF who have been transferred to the United States Army Air forces.

The newspapers said that the colorful and skilled combat flyers, who have chalked up many an enemy plane during their year and a half operations with the RAF, have contributed to the ascendancy of the RAF.

Typical of the praise given by the newspapers was that of the News Chronicle which said: "Thanks a lot Eagles!"

Gable Passes Test And Now May Attend Movies

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Sept. 17—His face a chestnut brown and with stomach flat as an ironing board, Movie Star Clark Gable today was graduated into the select circle of upper classmen at the Army air force's officer candidate school.

By completing the rigorous training program imposed on members of the lower class, Officer Candidate Gable has earned a privilege much-coveted by the students—the right to go to the movies during off-duty hours.

It has been a hard pull for Hollywood's No. 1 glamour man, for he entered school ten days late. But his superior officers have nothing but praise for the way the actor has applied himself to the intensive military, academic and physical training courses that make this Miami Beach institution a model of West Point.

From Colonel Charles H. McNair, director of the school, came the accolade that Gable is proving himself to be a good soldier.

"He has been shown no special consideration, and has asked for none," Col. McNair said. "He has caught up with his classwork and he has proved himself to be an efficient soldier."

Speaking for himself, Gable says he really likes the sweat and toil of becoming a streamlined officer.

"I'm getting more thrill out of this than anything I've ever done in my life," he asserted.

STEPHAN'S PLEA FOR LIFE GOES BEFORE JUDGES

CINCINNATI, Sept. 17—Appeal of Max Stephan, German-American restaurateur under sentence of death for treason, today was listed for hearing as the last case on the 195-case calendar of the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

However, court attaches said the case probably would be heard out of order since Stephan's execution is set for November 3, even though his attorneys have not as yet filed application for advancement of the case.

Stephan was sentenced to death by Detroit District Judge Arthur J. Tuttle following conviction on charges he aided a German flier escaping from Canada.

British Lash Ruhr Region In Big Raid

London Says Seven Vital Production Districts Hit In Two Weeks

LONDON, Sept. 17—Britain smashed at the German industrial Ruhr district last night in a mass raid by 700 to 800 bombers, according to unofficial estimates today.

An official air ministry announcement said 39 planes were lost in the night attack on the manufacturing area which produces more than 50 percent of the Reich's industrial output.

"Bombings of Germany have reached a new peak," said headlines in morning papers reporting the latest raid which was a follow-up of the attacks on Cherbourg and the great Nazi naval base at Wilhelmshaven.

1942 TIGERS TO MAKE GRID BOW FRIDAY NIGHT

Football fans will get their first look at the 1942 edition of the Circleville high school team Friday night when Coach Roy Black's inexperienced but fighting Tigers engage Chillicothe Central Catholic in competition which begins at 8 o'clock.

The Chillicothe outfit's caliber is unknown, and so is that of the Red and Black, although spectators at practice sessions feel certain that the 1942 team will take up where the 1941 aggregation left off. The record last year was five victories, two losses and one tie.

Graduation riddled the ranks of the varsity, but sufficient experienced youths remain to form a strong nucleus around which Coaches Black and Tom Armstrong are building their team.

The Tigers will be led by co-captains this year, Carl Bach, quarterback, and Richard Wells, tackle, being chosen for the honorary posts by their teammates.

Coach Black indicated Thursday that his starting lineup would include James Dade and David Mader at ends; Dudley Smalley and Wells at tackles; Earl Wallace and Howard Moore at guards; Robert Valentine at center; Bach at quarterback; Emmitt Dade and James Heath at the halfbacks and Tommy Shea at fullback.

Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

HIS SCRUPLES, DEVELOPED LATE, LEAD TO PRISON

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 —Salomon Wexler, 32, professional bill collector, faced three years in federal prison today because he acquired scruples against killing after he was classified as I-A in the draft. Brought before Federal Judge William H. Holly to explain his failure to report for induction into the army, Wexler said:

"My scruples prevent me from taking a life."

"But he didn't acquire those scruples," Assistant U. S. District Attorney John M. Kiely declared, "until after he had been classified I-A."

"Three years in the federal penitentiary," Judge Holly told Wexler.

CURFEW TO KEEP GIRLS OFF FREMONT STREETS

FREMONT, Sept. 17—A virtual curfew after 10 p. m. for girls under 18 was to be invoked tonight by Fremont following an outbreak of juvenile delinquency.

Five cases have presented themselves in the last few days resulting in one girl being sent to the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware and another being held in the county detention home.

AIR FORCE HEARS PLEA

U. S. Marines Hold Firmly To Solomons; Action Growing In New Guinea District

By International News Service Fighting of titanic proportions raged with increased fury on the bloody Stalingrad front today as Russian and German troops battled hand-to-hand in the outskirts of the beleaguered city.

Masses of tanks were thrown against the ramparts of the Volga river metropolis, and waves of Nazi infantry attempted to follow through but the troops of the Red army fought bitterly and desperately and succeeded in repelling all enemy onslaughts.

Josef Stalin called on the Soviet air force to take a page from the book of the RAF. The Russian leader pointed to the success of the RAF in 1940 when it saved Britain from the Nazi Luftwaffe and he asked his air force to do the same to save Stalingrad.

Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock, repeatedly showing his complete disdain for the lives of his men, launched new attacks on the southwest approaches to the city. The Russians ripped these attacks apart, and the Germans left scores of wounded and dead on a battle-ground littered with the hulks of smashed tanks.

Neither the Germans nor Russians asked for any quarter in the furious fighting for the "city of Stalin." Houses have been converted into fortresses and the opposing forces fired at each other from every window. The Russians repeatedly ventured forth in costly attempts to gain possession of advantageous spots under the cover of both rifle and heavy gun fire.

Other Russians Gaining

'While their comrades-in-arms were fighting a battle to the death at Stalingrad, other Russian troops were gaining successes in the Mordok sector of the central Caucasus and along the Moscow front.

On another of the world's battlefronts, tough United States Marines were holding firmly to their hard-won positions in the Solomon islands as Japanese forces attempted to regain the important bastions in the southwest Pacific. The might of American aerial power in this theatre of war was making itself felt as the newest and speediest fighters and pursuit ships roared into action.

In another sector of the southwest Pacific, allied ground forces sought to stem an apparent Japanese advance down the slopes of the Owen Stanley mountain range toward the important allied base of Port Moresby in New Guinea. Allied planes were in action, seeking out enemy shipping and blasting Japanese bases.

Meantime, the London Daily Mail offered indications that the Japanese may be readying their forces for action in cooperation (Continued on Page Four)

YOUR DOG DOING FINE IN ARMY, BOY INFORMED

FORT HANCOCK, N. J., Sept. 17 — Ten-year-old Walter Laffer of Cleveland today should receive his answer from Brig. Gen. Phillip S. Gage, commander of New York harbor defenses, assuring the boy that "King" is well and healthy.

King, a thoroughbred airdale, recently was donated to the Army by its young master and the other day Walter wrote personally to Gen. Gage inquiring about the dog's health.

The commander included a snapshot of King at his new army duties.

"As you can see, 'King' is happy," Gen. Gage wrote, "although I venture to say that he misses you quite as much as you miss him."

$30,000 KIDNAP PLOT LEADS TO JAIL FOR NURSE

PELHAM VILLAGE, N. Y., Sept. 17—Federal authorities today were holding a 23-year-old nursemaid who, keeping her charge away from home for about 12 hours, attempted to extort $30,000 in ransom by writing a kidnap note.

When the money was not forthcoming, FBI agents disclosed the nursemaid, Mrs. Kathryn Batchelder, voluntarily called the parents and announced that the child had been "released."

The hoax, according to P. E. Foxworth, assistant director of the FBI, was perpetrated Tuesday morning when the nursemaid left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Joyce, Jr., with 4½-year-old Nancy and her sister, Emily, 8 years old.

After taking Emily to school, it is charged, Mrs. Batchelder took the younger child to a room she had previously rented and mailed a note to the parents stating that both she and the child had been kidnapped and were being held for $30,000 ransom.

Joyce, a broker, was at business, but his wife immediately notified police who called in FBI agents.

Investigators were hot on the trail when Mrs. Batchelder telephoned the home saying that she and the child had been released.

After questioning by FBI agents, she finally admitted that she had written the note with the hope of collecting the money herself.

COUNCIL VOTES SALARY BOOSTS AT HOSPITAL

Nurse Pay Increases Due To Competitive Bidding

STATE MANDATE ACCEPTED

Establishment Of Nursery
Ordered—Street Workers
Get More Money

Faced with an employee shortage at Berger hospital which threatens to become so serious that it may become necessary to close doors of the institution caused Circleville council Wednesday night to vote salary increases to all members of the nursing staff and to all other employees of the institution.

An ordinance drawn during the session by Solicitor Joe W. Adkins was passed under suspension of rules following appeals voiced by Mrs. Elizabeth Lumpe, hospital superintendent, and E. W. Weiler, safety director, who supervise the hospital for the city. Mrs. Lumpe declared that it has become impossible to obtain nurses or nurses' aides with big city hospitals offering much more money, and the Army calling for all the trained nurses it can obtain.

Short of Nurses

The hospital is short three nurses at the present time. Council voted increases in salaries to all employees and appropriated $2,000 to the hospital fund to pay the salaries for the remainder of the year. At present there is $21 in the hospital fund.

New salary scale includes: superintendent, $145; five nurses, $110; three nurses' aides, $60; cook, $70; housekeeper, $60; maid, 35 cents an hour; technician, $110; janitor, $110. Nurses have been receiving $90 a month and nurses' aides $45.

Council also took action to forestall an order from the state board of health to close the hospital because of failure to correct a condition which has existed since the hospital opened. Mrs. Reeder of the state board of health has given the city 30 days in which to set up a nursery which will be separate from the delivery room. Council said that a room, No. 12, has been selected for the nursery and instructed Solicitor Adkins to write to the War Production Board to obtain a priority order which will permit purchase of plumbing materials needed to establish the room as a nursery.

Damages Paid

Among other council items of business were: Appropriation of $55 to Ray Anderson and $49 to Kenneth Baldwin to pay them for damage done to canned food and equipment in the basement of their homes by water which overflowed from a sewer near their residences. A too-heavy load from the Winorr canning plant caused the damage, the sewer not being able to handle the water.

Increased hourly wages for street repairmen and others employed by the city service department.

Voted an ordinance to increase the pay for special policemen from $2.50 a day to $3.

Expressed thanks to Mayor Ben H. Gordon and Service Director Clarence Helvering for buying, painting and installing two rows of chairs in council chamber.

Appointed the finance committee, headed by Frank A. Lynch, to investigate a fair purchase price for the waterworks. This question has been discussed numerous times in council without any definite action.

STATE DECIDES RESIGNATION OF GOELLER LEGAL

Pickaway county board of elections was informed Thursday by the secretary of state that the letter of resignation sent to the Pickaway county Democratic executive committee by Captain Lawrence E. Goeller of the Army Air Corps in which he withdraws his name from nomination for the general assembly can be considered as legal.

Election board asked an opinion from the state office since it had received no official notice from the Democratic committee that he would not be a candidate. If the Democratic committee turns over the letter to the election board the latter will be permitted to withdraw the nominee's name, Clerk Russell Imler was informed. Captain Goeller received his commission a few days after being named at the August primary. He said he would not take any action until he learned whether he would be able to negotiate basic training necessary for participation in Air Corps work. He is training in Miami Beach, Fla. The Democratic executive committee will meet Friday evening to consider the letter of resignation, the meeting having been called by Carl C. Leist, chairman. Whether the committee will nominate a successor is not known, although it is believed likely that such action will be taken. In order to get the name of a successor on the November ballot to run against Herbert Louis of New Holland the nominee must be certified to the election board not later than September 24.

LIBRARY PLANS CARD FILE OF LOCAL TROOPS

Circleville public library staff is engaged in preparing a card file record of all Pickaway county men serving in the armed forces of the United States.

Dan Pfoutz, librarian, announced Thursday that an attempt is being made to include all those serving at the time and since the German army first invaded Poland in September 1939 beginning World War II.

This card file will be alphabetically arranged by the man's name. Each entry will note as many details concerning the service man as possible. Included will be the name and home address, outfit and rank, age, special awards, wounds, reference to the place and notices of death, and such information. Although secured from various sources, most of this material will be obtained from the library's bound files of The Circleville Herald.

Any organization with a list of members or employees serving in Army, Navy, or Marines may cooperate by sending these names to the librarian. The relatives of men in the armed forces are urged to do likewise. Names should be clearly printed or typewritten and all additional information (home address, outfit, rank, etc.) should be given whenever known.

The library plans this project as a supplement to the roster of World War I soldiers which the library has on file. Such material is of historical value and of current interest. It has been used very extensively.

UNFOUNDED RUMOR

Rumors fly thick and fast in wartime Washington, many without the slightest basis of truth.
Here is the latest.

The Rumor: One of the Freuhauf brothers in Detroit, who manufacture trailers, gave his yacht to the Navy, but before doing so said he wanted to take it on a farewell cruise. He had no sooner got a few hours offshore, however, when he received a peremptory demand from the Navy to return, after which Harry Hopkins and his new bride took over the yacht and sailed away on their honeymoon.

The Truth: Harry Hopkins doesn't like yachting, gets seasick easily, spent his vacation in Connecticut. Harry Freuhauf, interviewed by this columnist on the telephone, said: "My brother did turn his yacht over to the Navy, but the arrangements were entirely amicable, and Harry Hopkins never was on it any time of place. We have heard all sorts of rumors about this, but there is absolutely nothing to them."

LITTLE BUSINESS CRUSADER

Donald Nelson's "get tough" policy gets increasingly unfortunate reverberations. Part of this is because Donald, nice as he is,
and well liked as he is, just doesn't seem to have a knack for feeling the public pulse.

For instance, he should have known that the most popular man in Washington, as far as little business is concerned, is Guy Holcomb, head of the Justice Department's Small Business Bureau.
Yet Nelson reached into the Justice Department and demanded that the Attorney General fire Holcomb. The reaction against Nelson has been bad.

Nelson had no jurisdiction over the Justice Department, and it is unusual for one executive to reach into the affairs of an outside office. However, Holcomb has been consistently critical of WPB's failure to award war contracts to little business; his cracks got on Nelson's nerves, and he demanded
that the Attorney General fire him. So to keep peace in the official family, Holcomb was "permitted to resign."

Actually, Holcomb was a hustling young businessman from Atlanta, Georgia, who knew nothing about red tape, spurned bureaucracy and went around saying exactly what he thought of people who seemed to be lying down on the job. Result: He made a lot of enemies, but he got an awful lot done for little business.

For instance, he discovered that only three companies in the entire United States got all the contracts for putting boilers in merchant ships. Other companies were ignored even when they were much the lowest bidder. Holcomb jumped into this with both feet.

Now little firms get a chance.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—
Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

Dan Pfouts, librarian, announced Thursday that an attempt is being made to include all those serving at the time and since the German army first invaded Poland in September 1939 beginning World War II.

This card file will be alphabetically arranged by the man's name. Each entry will note as many details concerning the service man as possible. Included will be the name and home address, outfit and rank, age, special awards, wounds, reference to the place and notices of death, and such information. Although secured from various sources, most of this material will be obtained from the library's bound files of The Circleville Herald.

Any organization with a list of members or employees serving in Army, Navy, or Marines may cooperate by sending these names to the librarian. The relatives of men in the armed forces are urged to do likewise. Names should be clearly printed or typewritten and all additional information (home address, outfit, rank, etc.) should be given whenever known.

The library plans this project as a supplement to the roster of World War I soldiers which the library has on file. Such material is of historical value and of current interest. It has been used very extensively.

UNFOUNDED RUMOR DEPARTMENT

Rumors fly thick and fast in wartime Washington, many without the slightest basis of truth. Here is the latest.

The Rumor: One of the Freuhauf brothers in Detroit, who manufacture trailers, gave his yacht to the Navy, but before doing so said he wanted to take it on a farewell cruise. He had no sooner got a few hours offshore, however, when he received a peremptory demand from the Navy to return, after which Harry Hopkins and his new bride took over the yacht and sailed away on their honeymoon.

The Truth: Harry Hopkins doesn't like yachting, gets seasick easily, spent his vacation in Connecticut. Harry Freuhauf, interviewed by this columnist on the telephone, said: "My brother did turn his yacht over to the Navy, but the arrangements were entirely amicable, and Harry Hopkins never was on it any time of place. We have heard all sorts of rumors about this, but there is absolutely nothing to them."

LITTLE BUSINESS CRUSADER
Donald Nelson's "get tough" policy gets increasingly unfortunate reverberations. Part of this is because Donald, nice as he is, and well liked as he is, just doesn't seem to have a knack for feeling the public pulse.

For instance, he should have known that the most popular man in Washington, as far as little business is concerned, is Guy Holcomb, head of the Justice Department's Small Business Bureau. Yet Nelson reached into the Justice Department and demanded that the Attorney General fire Holcomb. The reaction against Nelson has been bad.

Nelson had no jurisdiction over the Justice Department, and it is unusual for one executive to reach into the affairs of an outside office. However, Holcomb has been consistently critical of WPE's failure to award war contracts to little business; his cracks got on Nelson's nerves, and he demanded that the Attorney General fire him. So to keep peace in the official family, Holcomb was "permitted to resign."

Actually, Holcomb was a hustling young businessman from Atlanta, Georgia, who knew nothing about red tape, spurned bureaucracy and went around saying exactly what he thought of people who seemed to be lying down on the job. Result: He made a lot of enemies, but he got an awful lot done for little business.

For instance, he discovered that only three companies in the entire United States got all the contracts for putting boilers in merchant ships. Other companies were ignored even when they were much the lowest bidder. Holcomb jumped into this with both feet. Now little firms get a chance.

In scores of other cases Holcomb went to bat for little business. But he stepped on too many people's toes, so now little business is minus its best friend in Washington.

M'NUTT'S BID AS DIRECTOR OF LAW CRITICISED

McNutt asserted that he would "want to see the proposal first." Thomas is also a member of the Senate military affairs committee, which along with the Senate labor committee, has been making an extensive study of the manpower question.

There has been rumblings in Washington for several weeks that a national service program was in the making, but McNutt—testifying yesterday before the Tolan labor migration committee—became the first high government official to advance it publicly. Whether he spoke with White House approval or not was a matter for conjecture, but the consensus appeared to be that McNutt would not have got himself "out on such a limb" unless he was fairly sure of his position.

McNutt Determined

The former governor of Indiana was most emphatic in his testimony that centralized control of manpower must come and he made it plain he thought the power that a national service act would entail should be vested in his manpower commission. At one point, he told the committee he thought the commission should even have the power to control the personnel of the War and Navy departments, and to exercise control over the Selective Service administration.

One member of the committee, Rep. Bender (R) Ohio, took vigorous exception to McNutt's proposal.

"This appears to be purely a McNutt enterprise," Bender said. "I am skeptical about the whole thing, and I don't think I would want a would-be presidential candidate heading it up. A real problem exists—McNutt is right about that—but I would favor a joint program with management, labor and the War and Navy departments represented—not just one man."

ALSATIANS, LORRAINERS TO BE DRAFTED TO GERMANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — In response to Germany's demand, Alsatis and Lorrainers are to be expelled by the Vichy authorities so that they can be drafted into the German armed forces, the British radio reported today, according to CBS.

Alsatis and Lorrainers serving in the French navy are to be released for service with the German navy, the broadcast said.

"Germany's lack of manpower is reflected in her latest demand from the Vichy authorities," BBC said. "All Alsatis and Lorrainers between the ages of 14 and 28 resident in France are to be sent to Germany."

"Alsatis and Lorrainers between 14 and 17 are to be placed in the German labor service, and the rest to be drafted into German armed forces."

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, September 17

A LIVELY and possibly exciting day is forecast from the predominant planetary configurations, but with possibly various disruptive, confused and unsatisfactory denouements, and perhaps losses of financial nature as well as other mishaps or disappointments. The judgment may not be able to cope with annoying situations or to form profitable conclusions, neither may assistance be counted upon from elders, superiors or those in influential positions. Be wise as to speculation or litigation.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively year but one with reversals, annoyances and unsatisfactory experiences, this affecting the private as well as the business and financial life. It may be difficult to come to wise decisions because of an unsettled or chaotic state of mind and elders, superiors or those in influence may not be depended upon to give the needed advice or substantial cooperation. Shun speculation and legal entanglements.

A child born on this day should be versatile and clever, perhaps in an artistic or intellectual career, although its judgment may not be entirely clear or decisive. Neither may the wise counsel of friends be satisfactory.

LOCKBOURNE MAN HELD

Earl Cummins, Lockbourne, O., was arrested at noon Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer on a charge of driving when intoxicated. He was nabbed one-half mile north of Circleville on Route 23. Hearing is scheduled for Friday.

HANGOUTS OF ENEMY ALIENS RAIDED BY FBI

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 17 — Federal agents, in a series of widespread surprise raids in northern New Jersey and sections of New York state, seized an undisclosed number of enemy aliens, most of them Italians, last night and early today.

An undisclosed number of Italians were arrested in raids on 64 homes and hangouts of enemy aliens in 31 northern and central New Jersey communities including Newark, Hoboken, Jersey City, Paterson, Ocean City, Wildwood, Red Bank and Trenton.

In southern New Jersey, FBI agents seized seven Germans, two Italians and one Japanese.

E. E. Conroy, FBI agent in charge of the Newark office said the raids were directed at unfriendly Italian aliens and were made with the help of local police.

A large amount of contraband, including firearms, cameras and short wave radio sets was seized.

One prisoner was arrested while listening to a short wave propaganda broadcast from Rome, Conroy revealed.

with Hitler. General Shunroku Hata, commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in China, was quoted as saying that "Japan is about to take an important step in cooperation with the European war."

Two Jap Ships Sunk

Two Japanese warships were sunk and 500 casualties were inflicted on the enemy when United States Army planes carried out a heavy raid against Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet, revealed in his ninth communique of the war that five Japanese fighter planes were shot down in flames and an enemy four-engine patrol plane burned on the water, while Japanese installations on Kiska were attacked.

The only losses suffered by the United States planes, based in Alaska, were two P-38 type planes which collided in mid-air and the pilots were lost.

Other mothers with young children and some of the older people are permitted to remain in their homes, or in the homes of friends. Their movements are closely restricted. However, those held in the Santo Tomas internment camp are permitted from time to time to visit families living outside the camp.

Although the internment camps are closely watched by the Japanese, the administration of it is left in the hands of the internees.

There are school classes and dances for the children, and lectures and entertainment for the adults. Children under 6 years of age live with their mothers in a special building in the camp, where they are less crowded and given extra foods.

Most of the food used in the camp so far has been supplied by the Philippine chapter of the American Red Cross, which has used funds at its disposal to purchase the food from Japanese-controlled markets.

The loss of 39 planes was the heaviest since June 25 when 52 out of 1,000 RAF bombers failed to return from a raid on the North Sea port of Bremen.

The tempo of the air offensive against the axis has been mounting steadily in recent weeks. In the last nine raids, it was estimated, 1,500 bombers have blasted German war production centers with thousands of tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs.

In the last ten days Germany has had only one night's respite from the sustained attack. Never before have so many bombers been sent against the Reich in so short a period.

MYSTERY SHOT ENDANGERS LIFE OF CITY CHILD

John Boggs, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boggs, 440 East Franklin street, missed death or serious injury by inches a little after 9 p. m. Wednesday when a .38 caliber bullet, believed to have ricocheted, struck a porch post immediately behind the lad.

Young Boggs was sitting on the porch bannister at his home, talking with his parents, when the incident happened.

He told Deputy Sheriff Vern Pontious who investigated that he "felt the breeze" as the bullet whistled past his head. It struck the porch post and fell to the porch floor.

Marks on the bullet indicate, Pontious said, that it might have struck something made of steel before it hit the Boggs porch.

Investigation by the deputy disclosed that about five shots had been fired in quick succession somewhere east of the Circleville corporation line at the time the bullet struck the Boggs home, but Pontious was unable to learn who did the shooting. He was continuing his inquiry Thursday.

M'NUTT'S BID AS DIRECTOR OF LAW CRITICISED

McNutt asserted that he would "want to see the proposal first." Thomas is also a member of the Senate military affairs committee, which along with the Senate labor committee, has been making an extensive study of the manpower question.

There has been rumblings in Washington for several weeks that a national service program was in the making, but McNutt—testifying yesterday before the Tolan labor migration committee—became the first high government official to advance it publicly. Whether he spoke with White House approval or not was a matter for conjecture, but the consensus appeared to be that McNutt would not have got himself "out on such a limb" unless he was fairly sure of his position.

McNutt Determined

The former governor of Indiana was most emphatic in his testimony that centralized control of manpower must come and he made it plain he thought the power that a national service act would entail should be vested in his manpower commission. At one point, he told the committee he thought the commission should even have the power to control the personnel of the War and Navy departments, and to exercise control over the Selective Service administration.

One member of the committee, Rep. Bender (R) Ohio, took vigorous exception to McNutt's proposal.

"This appears to be purely a McNutt enterprise," Bender said. "I am skeptical about the whole thing, and I don't think I would want a would-be presidential candidate heading it up. A real problem exists—McNutt is right about that—but I would favor a joint program with management, labor and the War and Navy departments represented—not just one man."

ALSATIANS, LORRAINERS TO BE DRAFTED TO GERMANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — In response to Germany's demand, Alsatis and Lorrainers are to be expelled by the Vichy authorities so that they can be drafted into the German armed forces, the British radio reported today, according to CBS.

Alsatis and Lorrainers serving in the French navy are to be released for service with the German navy, the broadcast said.

"Germany's lack of manpower is reflected in her latest demand from the Vichy authorities," BBC said. "All Alsatis and Lorrainers between the ages of 14 and 28 resident in France are to be sent to Germany."

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, September 17

A LIVELY AND possibly exciting day is forecast from the predominant planetary configurations, but with possibly various disruptive, confused and unsatisfactory denouements, and perhaps losses of financial nature as well as other mishaps or disappointments. The judgment may not be able to cope with annoying situations or to form profitable conclusions, neither may assistance be counted upon from elders, superiors or those in influential positions. Be wise as to speculation or litigation.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively year but one with reversals, annoyances and unsatisfactory experiences, this affecting the private as well as the business and financial life. It may be difficult to come to wise decisions because of an unsettled or chaotic state of mind and elders, superiors or those in influence may not be depended upon to give the needed advice or substantial cooperation. Shun speculation and legal entanglements.

A child born on this day should be versatile and clever, perhaps in an artistic or intellectual career, although its judgment may not be entirely clear or decisive. Neither may the wise counsel of friends be satisfactory.

LOCKBOURNE MAN HELD

Earl Cummins, Lockbourne, O., was arrested at noon Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer on a charge of driving when intoxicated. He was nabbed one-half mile north of Circleville on Route 23. Hearing is scheduled for Friday.

HANGOUTS OF ENEMY ALIENS RAIDED BY FBI

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 17 — Federal agents, in a series of widespread surprise raids in northern New Jersey and sections of New York state, seized an undisclosed number of enemy aliens, most of them Italians, last night and early today.

An undisclosed number of Italians were arrested in raids on 64 homes and hangouts of enemy aliens in 31 northern and central New Jersey communities including Newark, Hoboken, Jersey City, Paterson, Ocean City, Wildwood, Red Bank and Trenton.

In southern New Jersey, FBI agents seized seven Germans, two Italians and one Japanese.

E. E. Conroy, FBI agent in charge of the Newark office said the raids were directed at unfriendly Italian aliens and were made with the help of local police.

A large amount of contraband, including firearms, cameras and short wave radio sets was seized.

One prisoner was arrested while listening to a short wave propaganda broadcast from Rome, Conroy revealed.

with Hitler. General Shunroku Hata, commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in China, was quoted as saying that "Japan is about to take an important step in cooperation with the European war."

Two Jap Ships Sunk

Two Japanese warships were sunk and 500 casualties were inflicted on the enemy when United States Army planes carried out a heavy raid against Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet, revealed in his ninth communique of the war that five Japanese fighter planes were shot down in flames and an enemy four-engine patrol plane burned on the water, while Japanese installations on Kiska were attacked.

in Manila City. Some of them, including a number of women with small babies, are staying at the Convent of the Holy Ghost. Other mothers with young children and some of the older people are permitted to remain in their homes, or in the homes of friends. Their movements are closely restricted. However, those held in the Santo Tomas internment camp are permitted from time to time to visit families living outside the camp.

Although the internment camp is closely watched by the Japanese, the administration of it is left in the hands of the internees.

There are school classes and dances for the children, and lectures and entertainment for adults. Children under 6 years of age live with their mothers in a special building in the camp, where they are less crowded and given extra foods.

Most of the food used in the camp so far has been supplied by the Philippine chapter of the American Red Cross, which has used funds at its disposal to purchase the food from Japanese-controlled markets.

trial centers "in complete chaos." "The United Nations are now nearing their goal of continuous bombings of Germany," the Telegraph added.

The loss of 39 planes was the heaviest since June 25 when 52 out of 1,000 RAF bombers failed to return from a raid on the North Sea port of Bremen.

The tempo of the air offensive against the axis has been mounting steadily in recent weeks. In the last nine raids, it was estimated, 1,500 bombers have blasted German war production centers with thousands of tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs.

In the last ten days Germany has had only one night's respite from the sustained attack. Never before have so many bombers been sent against the Reich in so short a period.

MYSTERY SHOT ENDANGERS LIFE OF CITY CHILD

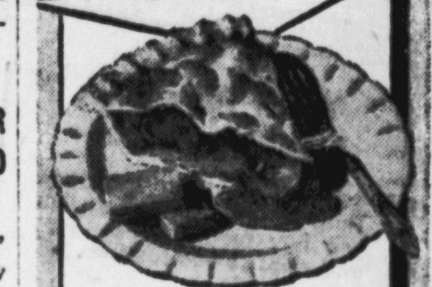

John Boggs, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boggs, 440 East Franklin street, missed death or serious injury by inches a little after 9 p. m. Wednesday when a .38 caliber bullet, believed to have ricocheted, struck a porch post immediately behind the lad.

Young Boggs was sitting on the porch bannister at his home, talking with his parents, when the incident happened.

He told Deputy Sheriff Vern Pontious who investigated that he "felt the breeze" as the bullet whistled past his head. It struck the porch post and fell to the porch floor.

Marks on the bullet indicate, Pontious said, that it might have struck something made of steel before it hit the Boggs porch.

Investigation by the deputy disclosed that about five shots had been fired in quick succession somewhere east of the Circleville corporation line at the time the bullet struck the Boggs home, but Pontious was unable to learn who did the shooting. He was continuing his inquiry Thursday.

GIBRALTAR AND DAKAR

THE German repulse in North Africa has done more than relieve Egypt for a time. It also lightens the fear for Gibraltar.

Last Winter, speculation as to the direction of Hitler's next push always included Gibraltar. Its capture would bottle up the Mediterranean. The English island fortress of Malta could be reduced at leisure, and Egypt conquered later. The campaign would be another example of Hitler's system: "Devour your enemies like an artichoke, leaf by leaf."

Another consequence would be a German thrust to Dakar, that West African port which is like a pistol pointed at the heart of South America.

Both consequences have been averted for the time by German defeat. Americans may have to worry about them again. Dakar cannot wait long now.

INDIA AND AMERICA

SOME Americans, possibly with a conscious or unconscious grudge against England, seem inclined to make trouble about India. They may tell Britain directly what to do, or content themselves with merely telling the American public what should be done. The usual tenor of such comment is that the British should get out of India at once and leave the people free to run their own affairs.

The problem, though, is not so simple as that. The more anybody knows about India, the more baffling it seems. That vast sub-continent is a welter of races, religions and politics. Britain has long policed it and, by maintaining peace and keeping rival breeds from killing each other, has probably benefitted India more than she has harmed it.

Britain's pledge to free India politically when the present war is over seems sincere. In the meantime her presence may serve a useful purpose. Freedom now would lay the country open to the predatory and meddlesome Japanese. American troops there are minding their own business and their country's. Agitation at present seems to serve no useful purpose. And India right now is certainly "not our baby."

They say Uncle Sam is going to spend $100,000,000,000 on the war next year. What counts, though, is the man behind the dollar sign.

Washington continues to be a madhouse, but signs of sanity appear here and there.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON — President

Roosevelt appears to have hit on a pretty sure cure for the evil of auto speeding, with its resultant chewing up of the nation's tires and aggravation of the rubber shortage which threatens the whole war effort were all so vitally concerned in speeding up to its maximum limit.

Bernard Baruch

He prescribes rules. He penalizes speeding, but the speeder has to be caught at it and then convicted, and convicting him isn't always so easy, for a skilled speeder knows how to doctor the record of his rate of travel. He can be rationed, which, in the long run will limit him as to the ultimate volume of his wastefulness, but what he's wasted in the meantime is lost for good.

Bernard also made the point that authority has been too scattered—that concentration of it in some absolute czar's hands was essential. That's been attended to and no doubt it'll help. However, the car can't be everywhere. He has to delegate it to a multiplicity of deputies. Personally he's an imposing figure, as a czar. But his assistants, individually, are of no great consequence piece. A chronic speeder's persistent fuss. Even if caught and brought to book, he's apt to offend over and over again, until he's rationed completely out of his facilities for keeping it up. And while rationing him modifies him somewhat, it doesn't prohibit him altogether.

Now, I don't imagine that F. D. recommends his experimental system as an all-out substitute for Bernard Baruch's. It probably wouldn't be a practicability on a very large scale. Nevertheless, within its limitations, it seems to have worked remarkably well.

The White House tenant described it at one of his recent press conferences.

He had recent occasion, he explained, to be hiking, of course by auto, along the Albany Post Road, holding strictly down to his legal 35-mile hourly limit, but hitting it at that figure, as he was perfectly entitled to do.

Just behind him was a careful of secret services, as is customary in the presidential case.

Coming up from the rear, a succession of 22 other, private autos overtook and tried to pass the executive vehicle and its escort. Since this pair were registering their 35 miles each, it was obvious that the ensuing 22 were surpassing it, in bold violation of wartime rules.

With a flirt of his hand, car after car, F. D. signalled the following secret services, and, one after another, they warned the on-coming 22 to put on their brakes.

This greatly enraged the pursuing two-score-and-two drivers, and they angrily demanded, "Who in heck is that who's giving orders to us?"

To which the secret services' stick answer was, "He's the president of the United States."

They Were Tamed
Well, the upshot was that the presidential and secret services' cars, having arrived at their destined stopping place, stood by, while 22 private cars snooted past as unostentatiously as possible, without the hoot of a horn.

How fast they went afterward F. D. doesn't know, but he's qualified to speak as to their lick while they were held under control behind him.

Of course, under ordinary circumstances, they'd have been pinched for speeding, if there'd been any check on 'em, anybody to keep the record and anybody to rush 'em into limbo to answer for their waste of gas and rubber and disregard of regulations. But, naturally, the White House car's occupants and their escorting secret services couldn't pause to bother with such details.

The point I'm makin' is this—If a rubber-wasting speeder, called to reckoning for his misdeed, were to be informed, "Your accuser is the president of the United States"—it would impress him considerably.

It goes almost without saying that this is an impossibility at a distance from Washington and the Albany Post Road.

WAR CONTRACT EXECUTIVES

WASHINGTON—While the Senate Finance Committee has balked at Roosevelt's plea for a $25,000 ceiling on big incomes, some of the fattest salaries in the nation's history are being paid to big executives. Never before, not even in the lush days of the Coolidge Bull Market, have salaries been so bountiful.

This is true particularly among most firms getting war contracts. For instance, Curtiss Airplanes has received more than $1,000,000,000 in war orders, orders which require no great amount of salesmanship — by Guy Vaughan, president of Curtiss. Yet his salary has been upped from $25,900 in 1935, when selling airplanes was much more difficult, to $175,000 last year.

The increase was made possible by war contracts, yet the Senate Finance Committee now blocks the President's plan to take $150,000 of this back for the government.

Here is a list of some other firms getting juicy war orders, and the salaries paid their executives:

American Bosch Corporation, with many war contracts, pays its president, D. P. Hess, a salary of $100,000, though the company made only $890,000 last year.

The American Machine and Foundry Company, pays its head, R. L. Patterson, $166,800; the American Chain and Cable Company pays W. B. Lashar $120,500; W. F. Wheeler $72,000 and W. T. Morris $50,240.

The American Rolling Mill Company pays Calvin Verity $122,000; the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Company pays C. B. Bohn $142,000 and P. A. Markey $122,000; the Budd Wheel Company pays Edward G. Budd $110,000; and Cerro de Pasco copper pays H. Kingsmill $75,000.

GENERAL MOTORS TOPS ALL

General Motors, which has more than $2,000,000,000 of war contracts from the government, pays A. P. Sloan $200,000; C. E. Wilson $288,178; O. E. Hunt 235,000; and Albert Bradley $205,000.

International Business Machines pays its head, Thomas Watson $462,519; F. W. Nichol gets $104,000 and J. G. Phillips gets $55,000.

Lockheed Aircraft pays R. E. Gross $125,000; C. A. Barker, Jr. $90,000; Yellow Truck and Coach pays I. B. Babcock $127,000; Stewart-Warner pays J. S. Knowlson $91,000.

The list could be extended almost indefinitely.

Note — Back in the Coolidge-Hoover days one of the factors which upset prosperity was Andrew Mellon's thesis of not taxing big incomes much greater proportionately than little incomes. Mellon believed in the trickle down system, whereby spending in the bigger brackets trickled down below. However, economists generally concurred that it was concentration of wealth above and lack of purchasing power below which brought on the depression.

Some observers believed the Senate Finance Committee and Andy Mellon had the same general outlook. On the Committee, at any rate, are Millionaire Apple-Grower Harry Byrd of Virginia; Millionaire Peter Gerry of Rhode Island; Millionaire

DIET AND HEALTH

Periods In Life When Eyes Need Special Care

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YESTERDAY we discussed the care of the eyes of the child of school age. For every period of life there are eye conditions that fit only that time. Even before birth certain eye conditions can be prevented by treatment, pointed out by Dr. Lawrence T. Post, of St. Louis. Others he thinks should be prevented by restricting marriages.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

One of these is high myopia, or near-sightedness, an hereditary defect due to the shape of the eyeball. At least the marriage of two people of extreme myopia should be prevented. But when we remember that failure to do this is responsible for the high incidence of this defect among the Germans today and that the Germans are supposed to be the most scientific people on earth such a cause seems quite hopeless.

Preventive Measures

Many eye diseases have become practically non-existent on account of the enforcement of preventive measures and public health education. Thus to carry the age period to just after birth, medical science has practically eliminated "ophthalmia neonatorum," the blindness of the newborn, in civilized countries. Where, as not so long ago there were blind asylums crowded with these victims, now the institution of a weak solution of silver nitrate into the eyes of the child immediately after birth, to kill germs that might have got in during the passage down the birth canal, prevents this condition 100 per cent.

In the young adult period of life also prevention of industrial accidents to the eyes has been a great sight saver—how great we hardly can guess. Poor illumination too has been shown to be responsible for much eye fatigue and this has been largely corrected.

Presbyopia

Coming to middle age there are very few people who escape a visit to the eye specialist, for "presbyopia," the blurred vision that results from a hardening and lack of elasticity of the crystalline lens.

Perhaps the patient is depressed by this event. "This is the beginning of old age," he says. He jokes about it, but he isn't very happy. Dr. Post thinks people at about the age of 40 should be prepared for the spectacle epoch, to soften the jar when it comes. There are plenty of good things about the eyes after 50 and this epochal even, is relatively unimportant.

The modern man or woman should think also about the blessings that modern optics has given them. Not so long ago the science of spectacle-making was still in its journeyman stage and people from 50 on put up with glasses that gave them any old kind of vision.

Bifocal Spectacles

Benjamin Franklin among his other practical blessings to humanity invented bifocal spectacles and that was not so long ago.

Samuel Pepys closed his diary because he thought he was going blind, when it was only that he was nearing the age of 40; but in his day spectacles were few and far between, and eye-glass fitting had never been considered by scientific men.

To summarize—for the health of the eyes everyone needs a doctor's attention at the time of his birth, and again between the ages of six and 10 when the demands of school bring out small ocular defects, and then not again as a routine measure unless some bad luck comes along until the age of 40.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. S.: Would it be harmful for an expectant mother to have her teeth extracted?

Answer: The expectant mother should have her teeth examined regularly. Perhaps it may be necessary to extract one or two. I can't tell from your question whether you mean all the teeth extracted. I do not believe any dentist would advise that.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. Mark's Wife

by MARIE BLIZARD
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

"I'll bet Mother threw a monkey wrench into the works. Didn't she, Dad?" Pam was gayly persistent.

"Not at all," he said briefly. Claire had indeed "thrown the monkey wrench" into his plans, but it had been his fault. He'd thought she'd taken it for granted that he was coming and hadn't said anything more about it in his brief notes since that telephone conversation weeks before.

Apparently she hadn't taken anything for granted, because when he called her this afternoon, her voice had been hesitant and he gathered that he had upset her plans.

She said, "When I didn't hear anything further from you, I thought you didn't want to come. I—I put the Frisbees off until next month. If you really want to come. . . . But there's a crowd here. . . . I don't think you'd be interested in them. . . . But, Tom, if you'd really planned on it. . . ."

He'd cut in then, keeping the disappointment out of his voice, saying, "Don't worry about me. I'll take the car and run up with Frank to his lodge."

An accordion player began to play "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" for a party in the corner.

Pam said, "It certainly is all here, and tonight is going to be a night. Have you got theater tickets, Dad?"

He said, "I have!" and hailed a pretty flower-vendor. He bought a bunch of gardenias for each of them.

Pinning them to her fur collar, Barbara, a little giddy and very happy from the effect of the cocktail, was very sure it was going to be, as Pamela predicted, a night!

They dined beautifully in the gold and white dining room that Theodore had copied from his famous restaurant in Paris, on vichyssoise, incredibly smooth and chilled to a degree of perfection. Golden sole was followed by breast of chicken cooked in white wine sauce and served with baby lima beans and a crisp salad of endive and romaine. When this was finished, a corps of waiters brought a small table, an alcohol lamp and there was a flash of deft hands and a blue flame above the crepe suzette that was their sweet. They lingered over tiny cups of coffee and creme de menthe frappe until Pam said she couldn't bear to miss the rising curtain at the revue for which Tom had bought tickets.

Tom said he selected tickets for that particular revue because it was the gayest in town. It was. The music was the music of the moment, both sweet and saucy. The comedians made them laugh until tears rolled down the girls' cheeks, and the costumes and sets were so beautiful Barbara said she wanted to photograph them on her memory.

When the first act was over, they went out into the lobby to smoke and because Barbara wanted to see "celebrities."

The lobby was jammed with men in tail coats and with women wearing diamonds and sables and ermine.

Barbara said to Pam, "I'd like to have a little jacket like the one on the girl over there by the box-office. The red-haired girl."

Pam let out a shriek: "But that's Mimsey!"

"Who's Mimsey?" her father asked. But Pam had already left his side and was wriggling her way through the crowd to the red-haired girl.

She brought her back. "Barbara Wister. . . . And my dad. . . . I want you to meet Mimsey Scoville. We were roommates together at Miss Maidstone's ages ago."

Mimsey bowed respectfully to Tom and smiled at Barbara, then came alive and said, "Please don't be a stern parent, Mr. Kilcran. I'll simply die if you take Pam off."

Pam supplied the possible reason for Mimsey's threatened demise:

"She's having a snazzy party tomorrow night. Dad didn't know I was here or she would have sent me an invitation and I could have told you about it before."

"What is a snazzy party?" Tom asked gravely.

Mimsey said, "Oh, you know, smooth men! A Harvard crowd! A rumba band and all that. If Pam doesn't stay, it will simply be flat."

"Well," Tom said, "I'd hate to be responsible for that. But I don't like to leave—"

"Oh, Dad, please! I can stay with Mim tonight and tomorrow night and come home the next day. I am old enough to travel on trains alone, you know."

"If you can assure me that you'll be chaperoned," Tom said with a twinkle in his eye.

Both young girls shrieked. "Isn't he quaint?" Pam demanded.

"All parents are," Mimsey said conclusively. "But if you could see my mother! She positively doesn't use lipstick."

"In that case," Tom told her, "I feel that my baby will be quite safe."

Pam permitted herself a rare girlish giggle.

When Mimsey departed with, "Meet you right here after the show," Pam said, "You certainly are funny, Dad. Hadn't you better be thinking about who's going to chaperone Barbara?"

"Barbara?" he said.

"Certainly. If you're going to go old world on me, you've got to do the same for her."

"And what danger is Barbara in?" that lady asked.

"Figure it out for yourselves. You two turn up together on the last train in South Wintbridge, with Barbara decorated with corsage and all, and what will the town think? You'd better wear false beards when you get off the train at 3 o'clock in the morning."

Tom said sternly, "A little more respect for your elders, please, miss. Besides, there's never anyone awake in South Wintbridge at 3 o'clock in the morning."

He was quite right. He would not have been right, however, if he had added that South Wintbridge people did not return on that train.

Miss Minnie Trowbridge was an expert seamstress. No one in South Wintbridge—and everyone knew her, since she had been sewing for its families for nearly 40 years—would deny that. Nor could they deny her boasting, "Follow me! I'm a one-woman newspaper," she was fond of repeating, and "Many's the lady in South Wintbridge who wouldn't have anybody else sew for her. They even send for me when they move away somewhere else."

It wasn't very often that she was sent for, and Mary Humboldt, who had been sent for her fateful September when she moved to New York if she'd known where to find anyone else who could do what she wanted done. Minnie was a talker, but she was a fast and competent worker and it was worth the added cost of paying her railroad fare to New York to get the children's clothes ready and right for school.

It would have been worth a king's ransom to Barbara Wister to have prevented Minnie's trip to New York.

FONDA IN LAST SHOW

Henry Fonda, who reports in two weeks for duty with the United States Navy, makes his final public appearance in the Radio Theatre Monday night, September 25, with Don Ameche and Lynn Bari in "The Magnificent Doe".

Fonda, Ameche and Miss Bari are from the original cast of the movie, which was released within the last few months. Produced by Cecil B. DeMille, the broadcast will be on 114 stations of the Columbia network at 9 p. m.

The story is a chain of humorous and often pathetic situations.

QUEZON ON AIR

President Manuel L. Quezon of the Philippines will appear on the March of Time Thursday night to describe how his 16,000,000 followers continue to battle the Japanese forces of occupation. Long ailing, frequently confined to bed by illness since he came to this country from Corregidor, President Quezon is disregarding his physician's advice in making the broadcast because of anxiety to have his message heard by America and through March of Time's shortwave facilities by the world. His voice will be piped into the New York studio from his bedside in the Waldorf-Astoria and the program, aired over NBC at 10:30 will be beamed on the Philippines.

Senator Chandler Gurney, South Dakota Republican, who has introduced a bill into the Senate calling for drafting of 18 and 19-year-old youths, also appears on the program to explain the urgency of his bill and reveal how it would operate. Another March of Time guest will be Ellis Arnall, 35, of Newman, Ga., sensational victor over Gov. Eugene Talmade, thrice Georgia's chief executive in Georgia's recent primary.

By direct radio from Australia, an American flier who has participated in the Battle of the South Pacific is scheduled to tell the March of Time audience about his experiences in combat with Japs in bombing flights over New Guinea and to give an eye-witness report on new developments in that theatre of war.

GILDERSLEEVE ON AIR

Hal Peary, radio's genial Gildersleeve, visits Charlie McCarthy next Sunday.

The broadcast, also featuring Don Ameche, Edgar Bergen, Ray Noble and his orchestra, and Noble's new singing discovery, Dale Evans, will be heard on the Red network at 8 p. m.

"The Great Gildersleeve" and McCarthy are friends of years' standing from Sunday afternoon sessions around the hallways at NBC in Hollywood, but this is their first appearance on the air together.

The 30-minute program also includes songs by Ameche and Dale Evans.

One of the newest stars of the show—already getting fan mail—is a Swede named Axel, who will put in an appearance with Ameche and McCarthy. The voice of Axel, incidentally, originates from behind the same cotton button as the voice of McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd.

BUMS FIGHTING MAD, BUT FLAG RACE UNALTERED

Pirates Downed 10 TO 2 While Cards Win From Boston By 6-2 Count

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — The Bums of Brooklyn may not win the 1942 National league pennant but they have a chip on their shoulders as big as a flagpole and the bright torch of hope still burns brightly at Ebbets field.

The Bums proved that yesterday, when, after Dixie Walker and Mickey Owen, their tempers razor sharp, vaulted into a field box to join a free-for-all between three fans and a trio of ushers, they carried the fight out onto the diamond and belted the stuffing out of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10 to 3. Because the St. Louis Cardinals also won, from Boston 6-2, there is no change in the pennant standing today.

The Cards are still out in front by two full games but the news is out that the Dodgers have woke up at last, are fighting mad and won't hand the flag over to Manager Billy Southworth and his hirelings without a real fight.

When the game got underway the Dodgers lost no time sailing into Harry Gornicki, Dolf Camilli, who slammed out his 23rd and 24th homers, poled the first of these over the right field fence in the first inning, to feature a three run drive.

Walker came up with four hits for a perfect day and Camilli's second homer, in the eighth inning, was the climax blow of a game which saw the veteran Whitlow Wyatt earn his 18th triumph of the year.

Southpaw Ernie White saw to it that the Cards didn't lose any ground in Boston. Holding the Braves in check in all but the sixth inning White rode to victory behind a four run rally by his mates which handed Jim Tobin his 20th setback of the season.

Singles by Walker and Slaughter; Musial's double, Cooper's single and a couple of Boston errors led the Cards' quartet of tallies in the sixth and the ball game.

In the other National league games the Cincinnati Reds won their sixth straight, beating the Giants 3-1, and the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies split a twin bill. The Phils won the first, 3-1, and the Cubs the second, 4-1.

THE CITY LOAN Cuts Family Expenses

Our loan number 730289 is a new post office employee who preferred working for the Government even at a smaller income. However, his bills and debts were more than he could handle. After reading our ad, he came to us for the money just as others had done. His loan was made and his debts were paid in full. To his pleasant surprise, his loan payments were cut in two and he had nearly twice as much to live on as before. "Just like a raise in pay," says he.

BIRDS AND HENS TO BATTLE IN SERIES PREVIEW

Columbus Comes From Behind To Take Seventh Game From Kansas City

COLUMBUS, Sept. 17—The Columbus Red Birds and the Toledo Mud Hens, third and fourth place finishers, respectively, in the regular American association season, today prepared to meet in a four-best-out-of-seven series to determine the league's representative in the Little World Series with the International league winner.

The Red Birds came from behind last night to take the seventh game of their series with the Kansas City Blues, regular season pennant winners. The game went 13 innings before the St. Louis Cardinal farm hands defeated the New York Yankee juveniles, 4 to 3.

Meanwhile, the Toledo Hens took their series with Milwaukee, four games to two, by scoring a 1 to 0, one-hit victory over the Brewers. Ewald Pyle turned in the sparkling mound performance for the Hens, allowing only one single and only one Brewer to reach as far as second base. The Hens scored their winning counter in the last of the ninth on two singles and an error.

The Birds, in eliminating Kansas City, were behind 3 to 0 going into the seventh inning. A single run in the seventh and two more in the eighth tied up the game. Columbus pushed across the winning marker in the 13th — a walk, a sacrifice and a single. Red Barrett got credit for the victory. The final playoff series will get under way in Columbus Friday night.

BUMS FIGHTING MAD, BUT FLAG RACE UNALTERED

Pirates Downed 10 TO 2 While Cards Win From Boston By 6-2 Count

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — The Bums of Brooklyn may not win the 1942 National league pennant, but they have a chip on their shoulders as big as a flagpole and the bright torch of hope still burns brightly at Ebbets field.

The Bums proved that yesterday, when, after Dixie Walker and Mickey Owen, their tempers razor sharp, vaulted into a field box to join a free-for-all between three fans and a trio of ushers, they carried the fight out onto the diamond and belted the stuffing out of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10 to 2. Because the St. Louis Cardinals also won, from Boston 6-2, there is no change in the pennant standing today.

The Cards are still out in front by two full games but the news is out that the Dodgers have woke up at last, are fighting mad and won't hand the flag over to Manager Billy Southworth and his hirelings without a real fight.

When the game got underway the Dodgers lost no time sailing into Harry Gornicki. Dolf Camilli, who slammed out his 23rd and 24th homers, poled the first of these over the right field fence in the first inning, to feature a three run drive.

Walker came up with four hits for a perfect day and Camilli's second homer, in the eighth inning, was the climax blow of a game which saw the veteran Whitlow Wyatt earn his 18th triumph of the year.

Southpaw Ernie White saw to it that the Cards didn't lose any ground in Boston. Holding the Braves in check in all but the sixth inning White rode to victory behind a four run rally by his mates which handed Jim Tobin his 20th setback of the season.

Singles by Walker and Slaughter; Musial's double, Cooper's single and a couple of Boston errors led the Cards' quartet of tallies in the sixth and the ball game.

In the other National league games the Cincinnati Reds won their sixth straight, beating the Giants 3-1, and the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies split a twin bill. The Phils won the first, 3-1, and the Cubs the second, 4-1.

THE CITY LOAN Cuts Family Expenses

Our loan number 730289 is a new post office employee who preferred working for the Government even at a smaller income. However, his bills and debts were more than he could handle. After reading our ad, he came to us for the money just as others had done. His loan was made and his debts were paid in full. To his pleasant surprise, his loan payments were cut in two and he had nearly twice as much to live on as before. "Just like a raise in pay," says he.

Business-Like Method of Community Chest Wins Praise

EARL F. MORRIS URGES CITIZENS TO BACK DRIVE

Hundreds At Rally Opening Campaign To Be Conducted All Through County

SINGING IS FEATURED

Solicitors Get Signal To Start Intensive Work—Chiefs Optimistic

Termed a Community Chest as the only business-like way to finance the many demands to be made on the public for money to carry on war time projects, Earl F. Morris, Columbus attorney and a leader in capital city Community Chest campaigns, called on Circleville and Pickaway county Wednesday night to lay it on the flight deck. In the drive for $49,680 which got under way officially Thursday.

In his reference to the flight deck, Mr. Morris, whose address highlighted a big rally at the high school athletic field, recalled the President's recent fireside chat in which he paid tribute to the flyer who said he intended to destroy the enemy if he "had to lay his bomb on the flight deck" of the Japanese craft chosen as his objective.

Hundreds At Rally

Several hundred persons attended the rally, staged under the lights at the football field, and the several hundred were pleased with the entire rally. All joined in singing numerous patriotic songs under direction of Ellis Snyder of Capital university, all were thrilled by the performance of the high school band, and all were greatly pleased with the address of the Columbus attorney.

"A Community Chest," the speaker said, "is the only sensible business-like way of doing this job. Without it you will be approached many times during the next year for contributions. With it being a success the solicitation job for this community will be completed once and for all."

"Without the Community Chest you will be bothered time and time again for contributions," he declared.

He pointed out that each drive for funds costs some money and that reduction in the number of drives means less administrative expense to come out of the dollars given by the public for the various causes.

Pleas For Support

"Make the Community Chest campaign a success now," Mr. Morris urged, "and call your contribution job done for the next 12 months."

"All of us know," he said, "that we must win a victory on the home front in order to win battles on the war front. We have a big job to do here in helping the United Service Organizations, China relief, R. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the numerous other organizations, which call for help. We must do all we can for our fighting allies, the Dutch, the Chinese and the Russians."

He declared that contributions to the Community Chest are very small sacrifices. "Giving mere money," he stated, "is nothing compared with giving a son, a brother, or a husband to the war effort. Giving money is a mighty small sacrifice when you consider the War Bond poster which shows the mother holding her small child in her arms and saying: 'I gave a man!'" cessful, the Capital university instructor receiving splendid cooperation from the audience. The entire program consisted of patriotic music, the high school band accompanying the singers.

Mr. Fischer concluded the program with a brief address in which he said that money contributed to the Community Chest will be "returned to us many times in our fight for life, liberty and the right to pursue happiness."

Referring to every person in the audience except those who have sons in service, he said: "There is nothing we can do to help win the war except to contribute to the Community Chest."

Solicitors who were to start their work Thursday met in the high school social room after the rally to receive final instructions. Already numerous contributions have been made to the Chest.

Hundreds At Rally
Several hundred persons attended the rally, staged under the lights at the football field, and the several hundred were pleased with the entire rally. All joined in singing numerous patriotic songs under direction of Ellis Snyder of Capital university, all were thrilled by the performance of the high school band, and all were greatly pleased with the address of the Columbus attorney.

"A Community Chest," the speaker said, "is the only sensible business-like way of doing this job. Without it you will be approached many times during the next year for contributions. With it being a success the solicitation job for this community will be completed once and for all."

"Without the Community Chest you will be bothered time and time again for contributions," he declared.

Pleads For Support
"Make the Community Chest campaign a success now," Mr. Morris urged, "and call your contribution job done for the next 12 months."

"All of us know," he said, "that we must win a victory on the home front in order to win battles on the war front. Giving money is a mighty small sacrifice when you consider the War Bond poster which shows the mother holding her small child in her arms and saying: 'I gave a man!'"

Necessity Cited

He cited the story told in the current movie, "Mrs. Miniver", which depicted a typical English family and its role in the war, the part the son played in the RAF, the father in the evacuation of Dunkirk, the mother in her capture of a German flyer, and the parts numerous other persons in the show played in the war effort. "This is a people's war," Mr. Morris said, "your war and my war. By putting this Community Chest campaign over the top we will have won one of the most important battles in the people's war."

The evening's program was started at 8:30 o'clock with the high school band, directed by C. F. Zaenglein, putting on its usual outstanding performance. The band paraded the field playing three of its favorite selections. The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Maxine Friedman, senior band drum major, prior to the invocation by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Buzek of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Frank Fischer, Circleville school superintendent who is chairman of the campaign, presented Judge Meeker Terwilliger, chairman of the 1918 War Chest campaign which went over the top in a splendid manner. Judge Terwilliger pointed out the challenge the Community Chest puts before people of the county, declaring that "we are undertaking a task which means much to our boys in arms. We must not let them down."

Community singing proved successful, the Capital university instructor receiving splendid cooperation from the audience. The entire program consisted of patriotic music, the high school band accompanying the singers.

Mr. Fischer concluded the program with a brief address in which he said that money contributed to the Community Chest will be "returned to us many times in our fight for life, liberty and the right to pursue happiness."

Referring to every person in the audience except those who have sons in service, he said: "There is nothing we can do to help win the war except to contribute to the Community Chest."

Solicitors who were to start their work Thursday met in the high school social room after the rally to receive final instructions. Already numerous contributions have been made to the Chest.
